Our skylit atrium with its 40-foot high bamboo garden provides 3000 square feet of meeting space. There are adjoining rooms for small parties and additional meeting rooms that can accommodate gatherings of eight to eighty. At meeting's end, guests often retreat to our trendy restaurant and pub that features an intimate outdoor café.

The first environmentally smart hotel in the United States.

Sheraton Rittenhouse Square takes care of its guests in every possible way. In fact, the entire hotel was designed with your health and the health of our planet in mind. Even our centerpiece, the skylit atrium lobby, benefits from a bamboo garden with 40-foot tall trees which oxygenate the air 35% faster than any other known species of flora. Your guestroom receives a constant flow of filtered fresh air, independent of the room's heating and cooling systems, so it's free of bacteria, pollen and mold, and you're free of worry.

You'll sleep well just knowing your bed is an "organic sleep system," comprised of 100% organic cotton and 100% pure wool, which retards fire and adjusts naturally to your body temperature. Your night table may look like it's made from choice hardwoods, but it has been manufactured from recycled shipping pallets.

All carpeting, both in rooms and hallways, meets or exceeds all applicable industry and EPA standards. The padding is made from 100% recycled synthetic fibers. And the rooms are meticulously cleaned using only non-toxic cleaning products. In fact, everywhere you go throughout the hotel you'll encounter state-of-the-art, ecologically-friendly, recycled and sustainable materials.

Care and concern about the well-being of our guests is always our top priority. No wonder the Sheraton Rittenhouse Square Hotel is the perfect environment for all occasions.
