

The Independence Park Inn is adjacent to Philadelphia's most historic square mile, adjoining Society Hill, Penn's Landing and Independence National Historical Park. Just two blocks from the corporate and government offices of Independence Mall, The Hotel is a perfect location for the discerning businessperson. Enjoy your complimentary European breakfast in the glass enclosed courtyard, and afternoon tea in the Grand Parlor, with its rich leather settees and fireplace. Two boardrooms on the courtyard level are handsomely appointed in the Chippendale-style and are perfect for small meetings. Distinctive high-ceilinged guest rooms, decorated in a traditional style are furnished with king and queen sized beds, cable TV's, in room coffee/tea makers, 2 phone lines and modern bathrooms. It all adds up to a civilized alternative where 19th century charm co-exists with 21st century convenience and modern comfort.

This Landmark Hotel is on the National Register of Historic Places.
