

COATESVILLE MOB CAPTURE NEGRO AND BURN HIM AT STAKE

Continued from First Page
tall figure a shadow against the blaze of an electric light behind him, stood Stanley Howe, placed there to guard the negro. He tried to bar the way of the six silent, masked men. The first one of them fell him with a blow of the fist and then he and his companions walked over the prostrate workman's body.

In a word of the hospital he buried the frame of Zack Walker, negro murderer, was stretched upon the table and covered his face with bits of cotton and gauze were thrust into his self-inflicted wounds. A nurse was near his bedside. As the six men approached his cot he opened his eyes and turned upon them, but the bandage hid him in a view of a look.

Phonograph in the room. One of the six men spoke. He immediately they accosted and tried to force the nurse placed a restraining hand upon the arm of one of them. The nurse threw up her hands and fled. The negro was tried and sentenced to the hospital was suddenly plunged into a state of unconsciousness. But the six men, armed, never hesitated. They carried the negro, still lying on the cot, and towards the doorway. Howe, the policeman, had recovered from the blow he had received and was trying to force his way back towards the way of the six men this time.

As they emerged from the doorway a clamor rose in the air. A cry for blood and vengeance such as Coatesville had never heard before. The rays of an arc light fell upon the mob. The negro was lifted upon the cot. The negro walked upon the cot. The negro walked upon the cot. The negro walked upon the cot.

They then turned the corpse. The mob then turned the corpse. The mob then turned the corpse. The mob then turned the corpse. The mob then turned the corpse.

They then turned the corpse. The mob then turned the corpse. The mob then turned the corpse. The mob then turned the corpse. The mob then turned the corpse.

They then turned the corpse. The mob then turned the corpse. The mob then turned the corpse. The mob then turned the corpse. The mob then turned the corpse.

They then turned the corpse. The mob then turned the corpse. The mob then turned the corpse. The mob then turned the corpse. The mob then turned the corpse.

MONDAY, AUGUST 14, 1911
The Philadelphia Inquirer
World's Series Baseball Coupon
For
Write or Stamp Name and Street
Name of City
Name of State
This coupon entitles the holder to one of the following prizes:
1. A ticket for the Philadelphia Athletics vs. the Boston Red Sox, Sept. 15, 1911.
2. A ticket for the Philadelphia Athletics vs. the New York Yankees, Sept. 22, 1911.
3. A ticket for the Philadelphia Athletics vs. the St. Louis Cardinals, Sept. 29, 1911.
4. A ticket for the Philadelphia Athletics vs. the Chicago Cubs, Oct. 6, 1911.
5. A ticket for the Philadelphia Athletics vs. the Cincinnati Reds, Oct. 13, 1911.
6. A ticket for the Philadelphia Athletics vs. the Pittsburgh Pirates, Oct. 20, 1911.
7. A ticket for the Philadelphia Athletics vs. the Cleveland Indians, Oct. 27, 1911.
8. A ticket for the Philadelphia Athletics vs. the Detroit Tigers, Nov. 3, 1911.
9. A ticket for the Philadelphia Athletics vs. the Washington Senators, Nov. 10, 1911.
10. A ticket for the Philadelphia Athletics vs. the Baltimore Orioles, Nov. 17, 1911.
11. A ticket for the Philadelphia Athletics vs. the Philadelphia Phillies, Nov. 24, 1911.
12. A ticket for the Philadelphia Athletics vs. the Philadelphia Athletics, Dec. 1, 1911.

G. C. U. DIVIDES NEW PRESIDENT

Passes Resolution to Oppose Candidates Infringe to Organized Labor
Chair Declared Measure Out of Order—Delegates Fail to Sustain Him

In spite of the decision announced by the newly elected Central Labor Union, James C. Cronin, that he would abstain from all discussion and action at meetings of that organization, the delegates at yesterday afternoon's session, in the Parkway Building, passed over his head a political resolution, which, although it embodied no name, was signed by several delegates known to be in favor of D. C. Gibboney and against Rudolph Blankenburg for Mayor.

When the resolution was read, President Cronin declared that it had a political character and that it was out of order. He refused to entertain it. The delegates, however, insisted that it be put to a vote. The vote was taken and the resolution was carried by a majority of about 100 to 50.

When the resolution was read, President Cronin declared that it had a political character and that it was out of order. He refused to entertain it. The delegates, however, insisted that it be put to a vote. The vote was taken and the resolution was carried by a majority of about 100 to 50.

When the resolution was read, President Cronin declared that it had a political character and that it was out of order. He refused to entertain it. The delegates, however, insisted that it be put to a vote. The vote was taken and the resolution was carried by a majority of about 100 to 50.

When the resolution was read, President Cronin declared that it had a political character and that it was out of order. He refused to entertain it. The delegates, however, insisted that it be put to a vote. The vote was taken and the resolution was carried by a majority of about 100 to 50.

When the resolution was read, President Cronin declared that it had a political character and that it was out of order. He refused to entertain it. The delegates, however, insisted that it be put to a vote. The vote was taken and the resolution was carried by a majority of about 100 to 50.

When the resolution was read, President Cronin declared that it had a political character and that it was out of order. He refused to entertain it. The delegates, however, insisted that it be put to a vote. The vote was taken and the resolution was carried by a majority of about 100 to 50.

When the resolution was read, President Cronin declared that it had a political character and that it was out of order. He refused to entertain it. The delegates, however, insisted that it be put to a vote. The vote was taken and the resolution was carried by a majority of about 100 to 50.

MISS LOTA ROBINSON

She is the eldest daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. John M. Robinson, of Baltimore. She and her four sisters have all been famous for their beauty and intelligence in their own day.

For a time Miss Lota Robinson resided with her aunt, Mrs. Charles Fox, in Washington, and was very popular in the social set of the capital. She has frequently been reported engaged to prominent men, including the late William C. Whitney and also a government official, but she has remained fairly free. She is now in Baltimore.

She is the eldest daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. John M. Robinson, of Baltimore. She and her four sisters have all been famous for their beauty and intelligence in their own day.

She is the eldest daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. John M. Robinson, of Baltimore. She and her four sisters have all been famous for their beauty and intelligence in their own day.

She is the eldest daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. John M. Robinson, of Baltimore. She and her four sisters have all been famous for their beauty and intelligence in their own day.

She is the eldest daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. John M. Robinson, of Baltimore. She and her four sisters have all been famous for their beauty and intelligence in their own day.

She is the eldest daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. John M. Robinson, of Baltimore. She and her four sisters have all been famous for their beauty and intelligence in their own day.

She is the eldest daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. John M. Robinson, of Baltimore. She and her four sisters have all been famous for their beauty and intelligence in their own day.

STATE WORKERS BUSY IN LUZERNE

Candidates Backed by Party Leaders for the Coming Primaries
Judicial Canvass and Contest for District Attorney Stir Republican Workers

Special to the Inquirer.
WILKES-BARRE, Aug. 13.—With the near approach of the primaries there is now a decided indication which candidates the Republican leaders of Luzerne county will support.

The state has not yet been definitely formed, but the outlook is that the leading candidates for the coming primaries will be: Judge Benjamin R. Jones, for the judgeship; Judge George S. Ferris, for the judgeship; and Judge Benjamin R. Jones, for the judgeship.

The state has not yet been definitely formed, but the outlook is that the leading candidates for the coming primaries will be: Judge Benjamin R. Jones, for the judgeship; Judge George S. Ferris, for the judgeship; and Judge Benjamin R. Jones, for the judgeship.

The state has not yet been definitely formed, but the outlook is that the leading candidates for the coming primaries will be: Judge Benjamin R. Jones, for the judgeship; Judge George S. Ferris, for the judgeship; and Judge Benjamin R. Jones, for the judgeship.

The state has not yet been definitely formed, but the outlook is that the leading candidates for the coming primaries will be: Judge Benjamin R. Jones, for the judgeship; Judge George S. Ferris, for the judgeship; and Judge Benjamin R. Jones, for the judgeship.

The state has not yet been definitely formed, but the outlook is that the leading candidates for the coming primaries will be: Judge Benjamin R. Jones, for the judgeship; Judge George S. Ferris, for the judgeship; and Judge Benjamin R. Jones, for the judgeship.

The state has not yet been definitely formed, but the outlook is that the leading candidates for the coming primaries will be: Judge Benjamin R. Jones, for the judgeship; Judge George S. Ferris, for the judgeship; and Judge Benjamin R. Jones, for the judgeship.

The state has not yet been definitely formed, but the outlook is that the leading candidates for the coming primaries will be: Judge Benjamin R. Jones, for the judgeship; Judge George S. Ferris, for the judgeship; and Judge Benjamin R. Jones, for the judgeship.

ROBERT GILESPIE DIES SUDDENLY

Former Magistrate Stricken With Paralysis While Smoking Cigar
Was Prominent Figure in Local Politics for Many Years and Veteran of Civil War

ROBERT GILESPIE

Former Magistrate Robert Gillespie, a prominent figure in the Republican politics of Luzerne county, died suddenly at the home of his wife, Mrs. William H. Brown, at the age of 72.

Mr. Gillespie was a member of the Luzerne county bar and had served as a justice of the peace for many years. He was also a member of the Luzerne county board of supervisors and had served as a member of the Luzerne county board of health.

Mr. Gillespie was a member of the Luzerne county bar and had served as a justice of the peace for many years. He was also a member of the Luzerne county board of supervisors and had served as a member of the Luzerne county board of health.

Mr. Gillespie was a member of the Luzerne county bar and had served as a justice of the peace for many years. He was also a member of the Luzerne county board of supervisors and had served as a member of the Luzerne county board of health.

Mr. Gillespie was a member of the Luzerne county bar and had served as a justice of the peace for many years. He was also a member of the Luzerne county board of supervisors and had served as a member of the Luzerne county board of health.

Mr. Gillespie was a member of the Luzerne county bar and had served as a justice of the peace for many years. He was also a member of the Luzerne county board of supervisors and had served as a member of the Luzerne county board of health.

Mr. Gillespie was a member of the Luzerne county bar and had served as a justice of the peace for many years. He was also a member of the Luzerne county board of supervisors and had served as a member of the Luzerne county board of health.

F. MUNSEY'S ENGAGEMENT DISCREDITED IN BALTIMORE
Members of Miss Lota Robinson's Family Do Not Believe It
Special to the Inquirer.
BALTIMORE, Md., Aug. 13.—Members of the Robinson family, as they look on the engagement between Miss Lota Robinson and Frank A. Munsey, which was reported in the West, are not believing it.

Members of the Robinson family, as they look on the engagement between Miss Lota Robinson and Frank A. Munsey, which was reported in the West, are not believing it.

Members of the Robinson family, as they look on the engagement between Miss Lota Robinson and Frank A. Munsey, which was reported in the West, are not believing it.

Members of the Robinson family, as they look on the engagement between Miss Lota Robinson and Frank A. Munsey, which was reported in the West, are not believing it.

Members of the Robinson family, as they look on the engagement between Miss Lota Robinson and Frank A. Munsey, which was reported in the West, are not believing it.

Members of the Robinson family, as they look on the engagement between Miss Lota Robinson and Frank A. Munsey, which was reported in the West, are not believing it.

Members of the Robinson family, as they look on the engagement between Miss Lota Robinson and Frank A. Munsey, which was reported in the West, are not believing it.

RAILROAD CHIEFS FOR GOOD ROADS' PROJECTS
James J. Hill Speaks to at Convention of Oregon Development League in Astoria, Ore.
Special to the Inquirer.
ASTORIA, Ore., Aug. 13.—James J. Hill, president of the Northern Pacific Railroad, and other prominent railroad executives, are expected to speak at the annual convention of the Oregon Development League, which is being held at the Astoria Hotel here today.

James J. Hill, president of the Northern Pacific Railroad, and other prominent railroad executives, are expected to speak at the annual convention of the Oregon Development League, which is being held at the Astoria Hotel here today.

James J. Hill, president of the Northern Pacific Railroad, and other prominent railroad executives, are expected to speak at the annual convention of the Oregon Development League, which is being held at the Astoria Hotel here today.

James J. Hill, president of the Northern Pacific Railroad, and other prominent railroad executives, are expected to speak at the annual convention of the Oregon Development League, which is being held at the Astoria Hotel here today.

James J. Hill, president of the Northern Pacific Railroad, and other prominent railroad executives, are expected to speak at the annual convention of the Oregon Development League, which is being held at the Astoria Hotel here today.

James J. Hill, president of the Northern Pacific Railroad, and other prominent railroad executives, are expected to speak at the annual convention of the Oregon Development League, which is being held at the Astoria Hotel here today.

PARACHUTE JUMPER FALLS THROUGH HOTEL SKYLIGHT
Special to the Inquirer.
ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Aug. 13.—A parachute jumper, who was in New York, fell through the skylight of the Marlborough Hotel here last night, when he was about 600 feet from the ground.

A parachute jumper, who was in New York, fell through the skylight of the Marlborough Hotel here last night, when he was about 600 feet from the ground.

A parachute jumper, who was in New York, fell through the skylight of the Marlborough Hotel here last night, when he was about 600 feet from the ground.

A parachute jumper, who was in New York, fell through the skylight of the Marlborough Hotel here last night, when he was about 600 feet from the ground.

A parachute jumper, who was in New York, fell through the skylight of the Marlborough Hotel here last night, when he was about 600 feet from the ground.

A parachute jumper, who was in New York, fell through the skylight of the Marlborough Hotel here last night, when he was about 600 feet from the ground.

TOWN MEETING IS PLANNED BY EARLY SUPPORTERS
Continued from First Page
of the league will be held this week at which action will be taken upon the majority situation. Judge Anderson has been looked upon as the favorite of many of the members of the league. The injection of the name of Mr. Earle into the situation and the fact that the Penrose-McNichol-Marsh-Seger combination of political leaders regard him as the most available man about whom to rally their forces against the Vanz and Gibboney.

of the league will be held this week at which action will be taken upon the majority situation. Judge Anderson has been looked upon as the favorite of many of the members of the league. The injection of the name of Mr. Earle into the situation and the fact that the Penrose-McNichol-Marsh-Seger combination of political leaders regard him as the most available man about whom to rally their forces against the Vanz and Gibboney.

of the league will be held this week at which action will be taken upon the majority situation. Judge Anderson has been looked upon as the favorite of many of the members of the league. The injection of the name of Mr. Earle into the situation and the fact that the Penrose-McNichol-Marsh-Seger combination of political leaders regard him as the most available man about whom to rally their forces against the Vanz and Gibboney.

of the league will be held this week at which action will be taken upon the majority situation. Judge Anderson has been looked upon as the favorite of many of the members of the league. The injection of the name of Mr. Earle into the situation and the fact that the Penrose-McNichol-Marsh-Seger combination of political leaders regard him as the most available man about whom to rally their forces against the Vanz and Gibboney.

of the league will be held this week at which action will be taken upon the majority situation. Judge Anderson has been looked upon as the favorite of many of the members of the league. The injection of the name of Mr. Earle into the situation and the fact that the Penrose-McNichol-Marsh-Seger combination of political leaders regard him as the most available man about whom to rally their forces against the Vanz and Gibboney.

FIND WATCHMAN DEAD IN GAS FILLED ROOM
Bulldoze Theory Advanced by Police Denied by Employer
Found dead in a gas-filled room in the basement of the British Consulate, 701 Pine street, late last night, George Meyer, 30 years old, the caretaker of the building, was found dead. The police have advanced a bulldoze theory, but the employer, the British Consulate, has denied it.

Found dead in a gas-filled room in the basement of the British Consulate, 701 Pine street, late last night, George Meyer, 30 years old, the caretaker of the building, was found dead. The police have advanced a bulldoze theory, but the employer, the British Consulate, has denied it.

Found dead in a gas-filled room in the basement of the British Consulate, 701 Pine street, late last night, George Meyer, 30 years old, the caretaker of the building, was found dead. The police have advanced a bulldoze theory, but the employer, the British Consulate, has denied it.

Found dead in a gas-filled room in the basement of the British Consulate, 701 Pine street, late last night, George Meyer, 30 years old, the caretaker of the building, was found dead. The police have advanced a bulldoze theory, but the employer, the British Consulate, has denied it.

RIOTING STRIKERS IN LIVERPOOL KILL AND APPLY TORCH
Continued from First Page
to a hospital in a previous condition. It is reported that some houses were set on fire during the disturbances. The strikers' conduct was largely due to the part of members of the police force brought here from Birmingham to assist in maintaining order.

to a hospital in a previous condition. It is reported that some houses were set on fire during the disturbances. The strikers' conduct was largely due to the part of members of the police force brought here from Birmingham to assist in maintaining order.

to a hospital in a previous condition. It is reported that some houses were set on fire during the disturbances. The strikers' conduct was largely due to the part of members of the police force brought here from Birmingham to assist in maintaining order.

to a hospital in a previous condition. It is reported that some houses were set on fire during the disturbances. The strikers' conduct was largely due to the part of members of the police force brought here from Birmingham to assist in maintaining order.

ADOLPH REGAL
The Inquirer offers for the purchase of a well-known Philadelphia...

BLAIR COUNTY WAS SPIRITED CONTESTS

District Attraction Struggle Is Attracting Widespread Interest
There is a Big Field of Aspirants for the Nominations for County Commissioner

Special to the Inquirer.
ALTOONA, Pa., Aug. 13.—How many voters have been stirred by exciting political contests, but from general indications the field for the Republican nomination of District Attorney is one of the most exciting of the year. It is made the more exciting by the fact that the other aspirants of the letter have been made public. Harry A. Davis, of this city, local attorney for the Anti-Slavery League, and James H. Brown, of Altoona, are the two who are most likely to be chosen.

It is made the more exciting by the fact that the other aspirants of the letter have been made public. Harry A. Davis, of this city, local attorney for the Anti-Slavery League, and James H. Brown, of Altoona, are the two who are most likely to be chosen.

It is made the more exciting by the fact that the other aspirants of the letter have been made public. Harry A. Davis, of this city, local attorney for the Anti-Slavery League, and James H. Brown, of Altoona, are the two who are most likely to be chosen.

It is made the more exciting by the fact that the other aspirants of the letter have been made public. Harry A. Davis, of this city, local attorney for the Anti-Slavery League, and James H. Brown, of Altoona, are the two who are most likely to be chosen.

It is made the more exciting by the fact that the other aspirants of the letter have been made public. Harry A. Davis, of this city, local attorney for the Anti-Slavery League, and James H. Brown, of Altoona, are the two who are most likely to be chosen.

It is made the more exciting by the fact that the other aspirants of the letter have been made public. Harry A. Davis, of this city, local attorney for the Anti-Slavery League, and James H. Brown, of Altoona, are the two who are most likely to be chosen.

It is made the more exciting by the fact that the other aspirants of the letter have been made public. Harry A. Davis, of this city, local attorney for the Anti-Slavery League, and James H. Brown, of Altoona, are the two who are most likely to be chosen.

It is made the more exciting by the fact that the other aspirants of the letter have been made public. Harry A. Davis, of this city, local attorney for the Anti-Slavery League, and James H. Brown, of Altoona, are the two who are most likely to be chosen.