Step by step, name by name – Philadelphia’s musical history comes alive on the Walk of Fame.

DISCOVER PHILADELPHIA’S ALL-STAR ATTRACTION

Walk. Stroll. Meander. Or, if you’re feeling fancy, strut.

No matter what your style, you can relive five decades of musical memories, through the names that made Philadelphia one of America’s most vibrant music cities.

View 106 bronze plaques as you take a journey through Philadelphia’s unique musical landscape. From early jazz, blues, gospel and rock through funk, pop and hip-hop, they’re all here, on the dazzling Avenue of the Arts.

SEE THE NAMES, HEAR THE MUSIC

Philadelphia's current music scene is more vibrant than ever, and the Walk of Fame is the perfect gateway to the unique Philadelphia sound.

Take your picture next to a plaque immortalizing one of Philly's music greats, then hear the real thing at one of our renowned nightclubs, where Philadelphia's soundtrack plays every night of the week. Or, for a musical experience on a grander scale, visit the magnificent Kimmel Center, home to the Philadelphia Orchestra and an eclectic array of performers.

Experience the Walk of Fame on Broad Street, between Walnut and Spruce Streets, in the heart of the city's world-class cultural, entertainment and dining district, the Avenue of the Arts. For more information about the Walk of Fame or Philadelphia music, contact the Philadelphia Music Alliance at 215-557-7372, or visit us online at www.philadelphiamusicalliance.com.

The Walk of Fame is the creation of the Philadelphia Music Alliance, a community-based, not-for-profit organization dedicated to preserving and promoting Philadelphia's rich musical legacy by increasing awareness of the city's great musical tradition and supporting the current music scene.

Established in 1986, the Alliance is Philadelphia's music authority. The Alliance promotes the vast contributions of Philadelphians from all music genres, and encourages the creation, celebration and historical preservation of Philadelphia music.
